GIRLS AND GLAMOR---A JOYOUS JUNIOR

Fraternity Dances, Musical Clubs Concert, Best Junior Ever, More Dances, and Coasting Made Glorious Ensemble---And Such Girls!

Prom. is over and with its close come the inevitably attendant joys and sorrows, broken hearts and purses badly strained. So much has been said in praise of an overworked committee and a beautified Gym. that recounting it is mere repetition. It was truly successful. No coasting accidents of note, glorious weather, abundant cuts,—all enviable factors in constituting a successful Junior—were our lot in great measure.

On Wednesday evening Alpha Delta Phi, Psi Upsilon, Theta Delta Chi and Emerson Literary Society entertained. Friday evening Sigma Phi, Chi Psi, Delta Upsilon and Delta Kappa Epsilon held receptions. An underclassman dance was held the same evening at the Alpha Delta Phi Hall.

Thursday afternoon the Glee Club gave a recital in Commons Hall and Friday afternoon the underclasses fought for supremacy in basket-ball in Soper Gymnasium. What leisure time remained was filled with coasting, bridge and a score of pleasures which go towards making Junior unique.

The Wednesday Night Dances.

At the Alpha Delta Phi Hall the following were guests of the week: Miss Keeney of LeRoy, Miss Lobdell of Boonton, N. J., Miss Duncan of Silver Springs, Miss Barney of Watertown, Miss Sarge of Ashtabula, Ohio, Miss Crooks of Malone, Miss Sessions of Utica, Miss Robinson of Malone, Miss Kaffenburger of Yonkers, Miss Farmer of Watertown, Miss Hackett, Miss Yates, and Miss Deane of Utica. Mrs. Peck of Ashtabula, Ohio, and Mrs. Robinson of Malone chaperoned the party.

The Psi of Psi Upsilon entertained at the chapter house Wednesday evening. The guests of the week were: Miss Hearn of Hudson, Miss Laird of Utica, Miss Foster of Utica, Miss Mac Farland of Rome, Miss McGovern of Lowville, Miss Strome of Los Gatas, Calif., Miss True of Washington, D. C., Miss Welch of Albany, and Miss Fay of Utica. Mrs. Burroughs of Albion and Mrs. Lord of Schenectady chaperoned the party. Willougby, '09 was present during the week.

The guests at the Theta Delta Chi House were the following: Miss Shelland, Miss Seybolt, Miss Rowe and Miss Miller of Oneonta, Miss Russell of New York, Miss Skinner of Watertown, Miss Race of Ilion, Miss Weaver of Syracuse, Miss Baird of South Orange, N. J., McIntyre, '05, and Nellis, '06. Mrs. Nellis and Mrs. McIntyre chaperoned the house.

The Emerson Literary Society held a house party during the week. Mrs. Alvord of Livonia and Mrs. Thompson of Westfield chaperoned. The guests of the week were: Miss Day of Northampton, Miss Marie Thompson of Westfield, Miss Hopkins of Poughkeepsie, Miss Fisher of Poughkeepsie, Miss Helen Thompson of Buffalo, Miss Christie of Ilion, Miss Van Schoeck of Syracuse, Miss White of Westfield, Miss Conklin of Syracuse, Miss Farnan of Mechanicville, Miss Eltinge of New Paltz Normal.

Prom. Concert.

"We've got to make good," said "Pretty", with a furtive glance toward the fair occupant of a certain one of Herr Merz's chairs. And they did. Which is by way of saying that the Prom. Concert of last Thursday was a success, as Prom. Concerts go. There was an abundant crop of colds and an unusual amount of listlessness but the audience was very kind.

The Instrumental Club has improved wonderfully since the Clinton concert. The violins give the rest of the club confidence and blend very well with the more metallic mandolins. The guitars were much steadier and more accurate. Life's prophecy of a record-breaking club seems in a fair way to be fulfilled.

With the Glee Club it was different. And there's a reason. It is possible to play fairly well when you are half asleep—witness Thompson's "acrobatic" postludes almost any morning. But it is utterly impossible to sing with dash and abandon after dancing until four, and then playing bridge in Carnegie or South until the rosy-fingered daughter of the morn trips from the portals of the East. Still it was not quite essential for nine-tenths of the club to assume the frowning part of Jove or the delicate languor of our Benjamin-Bates professor, particularly when they sang "Ha-ha!" A few more smiles would have been gratefully received by the audience. The more "stunts" a college club can work in, the better the general effect in brightening the audience.

There have been some big improvements for which Johnson deserves credit. The first tenors are toned down, making the ensemble less top-heavy. The new Tutti Frutti is very tuneful and catchy, and the new Campus Medley introduces some of our songs that have hitherto been neglected. Best of all, Carissima was sung almost perfectly. For the first time in the memory of our generation the parts were well balanced, by letting the first basses sing the air with the second tenors. There is still some useless material on the club which should be removed at once.

The quartet was quite in a class by itself. Gouge's "bad cold" did not prevent him from taking his part in a creditable manner. One number caused a little more fun than was intended. Apparently the idea was to "blob" a chord for purposes of humor, but the discord was so wonderfully successful that three attempts to find the original key proved futile and the piano was necessary to straighten things out. The new num-

MUSICAL CLUBS.

The Musical Clubs will start on their annual winter trip next week Tuesday and will be gone the balance of the week. The first concert will be at Oxford on February 28th at the Oxford Opera House, under the auspices of the Sappho Hose. On Wednesday night, March 1st, the clubs will appear at Sidney, in Assembly Hall, for the benefit of the High School Athletic Association and the Congregational Brotherhood. Thursday they will be in Middletown, where they have been so heartily received in years past. The proceeds of the concert will go to the children's ward of the Thrall Hospital. The concert will be given at Linden Hall and will be followed by a dance. The next concert, on Friday, will be at Newburg in the chapel of the Union Presbyterian Church, under the auspices of the Union League. The trip will end in New York on Saturday with the concert in the Green Room of the Waldorf. The alumni as far as possible thruout New York City and its vicinity have been notified of this concert and any who have not received tickets may secure them from Arthur D. Scovel, 55 Franklin St., New York City, or from Manager Anibal. Several delightful functions have been arranged at the different towns to entertain the men in the afternoons, and in New York an opportunity will be given on Saturday afternoon to go to the theatre.

SOPHOMORE-FRESHMAN GAME.

The basket-ball game between the Sophomores and Freshmen, which was staged in the Gym. in place of the production of the Charlatans, which was scheduled to take place Friday afternoon, was won by the Sophomores. Woods for the Sophomores was the main pull for his team, easily outplaying the three Freshmen who were pitted against him at center.

For the most part the game was well played, and the work of the guards prevented much open shooting on either side. As for the attendance, it was a distinctly Junior Week crowd, and it is safe to say that the visitors enjoyed the little interclass clash. The final score was 13-6.

The line-up was as follows:

SOPHOMORES.		FRESHMEN.
	Right Forward.
Griswold.		Erhardt.
	Left Forward.
Lewis.		Royce.
	Center.
Woods.		Calder, Perry, Abernathy.
	Right Guard.
Wheelock.		Eddy, Regin.
	Left Guard.
Fear, Wenigmann.		Flagg.

Goals from field: Woods 2, Griswol 2, Lewis 1, Erhardt and Royce. Baskets from fouls: Woods 3, Erhardt 2. Referee, C. Root, '12. Time keeper, Riddell, '14.

—Alumni who were on the Hill during the past week are: Drummond, '06, Swetman, '07, Aron, '09, Butler, '09, Richardson, ex-'11, and Townsend, ex-'13, McIntyre, '05, Nellis, '06, Cody, '08, Plumb, '09, Engs, '10, Wallace, '09, Drummond, '02.

EDITORIAL.

Turning from the insistent reminders of the departed glories of "Junior" which reminiscently haunt the columns of this issue, it might be well to draw the attention of the College to the coming Intercollegiate Debate. It is somewhat prosaic, isn't it, to drop or rise as the case may be from day dreams of "her" and nightmares with an empty pocketbook as chief tenant to the immediate consideration of such an intellectual exercise as a debate, but it is only right that we should all make the transition and show up on Friday night. Yes, that's the time. Friday, the 24th, at 8 p. m.

This particular contest marks an epoch in Hamilton debating. For the first time the activity has been removed from the immediate supervision of the Department of Rhetoric and Oratory and been thrown open to the College. It behooves us all to display an interest and enthusiasm sufficient to stamp the change with our hall mark of approval and good will.

For some time past our debating and by this we would say both Intercollegiate and Class Debating has fallen far below what we would fain boast. During the past six years we have never won unconditionally from Union nor consistently from any other college. And this College would stand all the recognition of our work in this department it could possibly obtain. The reason is not far to seek. At Union, debating is a college and not a department honor. The competition comes from the entire student body and it is a keen, close fight for position on the teams. A fight touches the student body first hand, and the college responds with enthusiasm.

Here at Hamilton we have made a step toward this same condition as far as open competition is concerned. The authorities have done their part; it now remains for the student body to show by appreciative interest not only in the Intercollegiate debate but in the routine work of the Department how welcome the innovation is.

Of course we can't all be debaters for which many of us are duly thankful, but at least we can show by our presence to the last man that the College appreciates the only too thankless efforts of the Debating Team and is anxious for their success. And it's our success, too, when you come to think of it.

INTERCOLLEGIATE DEBATE.

The names and positions of the debaters of next Friday evening are as follows: Supporting the affirmative for Union the first speaker will be M. William Bray, '11, second, Arthur D. Mann, '12, third, James H. Potter, '12, alternate, Ralph L. Streever, '12. On the negative for Hamilton, Martin, '11, Bedenkapp, '12, and Harper, '11, in the order named.

The team which supports the affirmative for Hamilton at Colgate will consist of O'Brien, '11, Colson, '11, and S. Jones, '11, speaking as named.

The Hamilton teams will adopt much of the system followed in the interclass debate but with a somewhat more technical analysis of the subject, and, it is to be hoped, with somewhat better organization than was displayed at that time.

THE PROM. CONCERT.

bers are by all odds the snappiest and funniest our quartet has ever had. And speaking of funny things, you should have heard and seen Sidle in the negro melodies!

Gouge's bad cold disappointed a good many who had hoped to hear his solos. Allen sang so well that he was called on for a second encore, which he hadn't had time to learn. His rollicking sailor song is sure to make a big hit. Woods and Heidner played the sweet Heimweh and a beautiful little encore that was all too short. Mrs. Seely-Brown has arranged a very fine Brahms number for them which will be used later in the season.

Greengard had a serious handicap in presenting a monolog which had been heard before by a large majority of the audience. His impersonations were very clever and he was encored twice. Peck's reading was rather long and probably not new to most of the audience. "Mark Twain's Interview" is a stock piece with many professional elocutionists and readers. The encore was also rather old. Peck's facial expression is good, and he has a strong voice. It is difficult to compare the work of the two men but Greengard certainly excels in stage finesse and the natural talent of a comedian.

The program follows:

1. Winter Song, Glee Club.
2. The Butterfly, Mandolin Club.
3. Honey, You'ee Ma Lady Love, Mr. Gouge, acc. by Mr. Thompson.
4. 1911 Tutti Frutti, Glee Club.
5. Neapolitan Sketches, Mr. Greengard.
6. Violin Duet, Mr. Heidner and Mr Woods, acc. by Mr. Thompson.
7. The Pirate Bold, Mr. Allen and Glee Club.
8. The Spirit of Love, Mandolin Club.
9. De Coppah Moon, Glee Club.
10. An encounter With an Interviewer, Mr. Peck.
11. The Quartet, Messrs. Thompson, Gouge, Sidle, Allen.
12. Madame Sherry Selection, Mandolin Club.
13. 1911 Campus Medley, Glee Club.
14. Carissima, Glee Club.

And Then the Prom.

Of course it was a success. "Bud" Walker was generalissimo and the Centennial Class promised the best music that ever split gloves, the best refreshments that Herr Merz's jugglers could carry, and the most joyous time that ever left a man with a lorn feeling after Saturday's goodbyes.

We venture the ingenious remark that words fail us. It wasn't so much Zita's music, tho that was better than ever before; it wasn't Merz's delicious refreshments; it wasn't the artistic new decorations or the cozy booths. You just guessed it; it was the girls. Never before has our Hill seen so many pretty girls at one time. Dr. Wood and Col. Plant say so, and they are surely reliable authorities. It is vigorously affirmed from time to time that ours is a college of picked men. We are willing to let that pass as a good chance for an upward bend. But we do insist that this year's Prom. brought to our Hill the choicest girls—we say it in all reverence—that ever graced the old Gymnasium.

Everything moved smoothly—even most of the hacks. "Carissima" was played at the scheduled hour, and there were no worn morning-after looks to spoil Friday's pleasure. The weather was ideal. The dance orders with their beautifully engraved seals were quite the daintiest we hav ever had. The gentlemen from Virginia ran the hacks in a masterful way. And behind it all was the hearty spirit of 1912 that makes things go. It was some Prom!

The Friday Night Dance.

The guests of the week at the Sigma Phi Place were the following: Mrs. Bristol of New York, Mrs. Gibbs of Albany, and Mrs. Bates of Washington, Miss Stone of New York, Miss Roessing of Butler, Pa., Miss Winant of Utica, Miss Bacon of Wash ington, D. C., Miss Wenigmann of New York, Miss Judson of Vernon, Miss Stryker of College Hill, Miss Wooster of Peekskill, Miss Radway of Mexico, Miss Robinson of Hornell, Miss Decker of New York, Jessup, ex-'13 and Clark, ex-'12.

At the Chi Psi Lodge the following made a very jolly house party: Mrs. Patterson of Tarrytown, Mrs. Root of Cooperstown, and Mrs. Walker of Batavia, Miss Walker of Batavia, Miss Patteson of Tarrytown, Mis Garrison of Albany, Miss Betts of Utica, Miss Crane of Binghamton, Miss Glezes of Rochester, Miss Stiles of Mt. Vernon, Miss Olmstead of Syracuse, Miss Engs of New York, Miss M. Davis, Miss H. Davis of Scranton.

At the Delta Upsilon House: Mrs. Carruth of Clinton and Mrs. Latcher of Utica, Miss Warren of Elmira, Miss Fear of Holland Patent, Miss Beach of Rochester, Miss Brennan of Jamestown, Miss Latcher of Utica, Miss Baheman of Buffalo, Miss Bedenkapp of Lewiston, Miss Thomas, Miss Clark, Miss Gear, Miss Moffitt and Miss Harvey of Utica.

The Tau of Delta Kappa Epsilon held a house party during the week chaperoned by Mrs. Johnson of Oxford and Mrs. Lewis of Clinton. The following were the guests: Miss Spaulding of Binghamton, Miss Gladding of Norwich, Miss Lewis of New York, Miss Dye, Miss Anibal of Gloversville, Miss Greig of Corning, Miss Hepburn of East Orange, N. J., Miss Marjorie Anibal, Miss Holden of Gloversville, Miss Watson of Sidney, Miss Brayton of Gouverneur, Miss Kaiser of New York.

Underclassman Dance.

On Friday evening the underclassmen, whose dances were held Wednesday evening, held a very enjoyable dance at the Alpha Delta Phi Hall. About thirty couples were present, including several upperclassmen who visited during the evening. The informality and general air of sociability made the affair a most pleasant one. Supper was served at one by Bradley of Utica. Dancing continued until four when the party broke up. Ryan's orchestra of Utica furnished the music.

—W. E. Peck, '12, has gone to his home in Ashtabula, Ohio, because of sickness.

—The standing of the Freshmen in in the "Life" competition is as follows: Marsh, Callahan, Booth, MacMillan, Bristol, Cole, Ogden, Gates.

—Drummond, '06, lectured to the American History class last Tuesday afternoon on certain phases of the Western conspiracy of Aaron Burr. The following Thursday morning hour was given to him for an interesting lecture, showing the credit due Tyler for his efforts toward internal improvements. Credit was especially due him, he said, for the building of good roads in Western New York, which was very beneficial toward the consolidation of the East and West during the period after the Revolution.
